Office of Legislative Counsel

Monday - 8 August 1955

In handing to Sen. Stennis (D., Miss.) the Director's note of appreciation for his assistance in connection with the new CIA headquarters installation, I suggested that we would be very pleased if the Senator would visit us at CIA to look us over and get the answers to some of the questions which he had raised during the various hearings, particularly as regards the number of CIA personnel. The Senator stated he did not think he would come as he already had more work than he could handle and "I am not going to tell you how to run your affairs." However, he continued to express amazement at the number of people we had and said that perhaps some day he might surprise us and come down.
